John Smith
Yandex - Fullstack Team Lead
Moscow, Russia

Dear Ms. Smith:

I am writing to express my interest in the Fullstack Developer position at your company. As a Software Engineering graduate student at RTU MIREA with nearly four years of professional experience, I specialize in building scalable web applications using Angular on the frontend and Go on the backend.

In my current role, I develop and maintain fullstack applications, designing and implementing RESTful APIs, as well as building responsive and efficient user interfaces with Angular. I focus on writing clean, maintainable code and improving system performance across both frontend and backend layers. One of my recent contributions included optimizing application architecture and improving routing logic, which led to a noticeable increase in system responsiveness.

Previously, I worked as a frontend developer, where I was involved in large-scale refactoring and migration to modern frameworks. This experience helped me build a strong foundation in frontend architecture and performance optimization, as well as a deep understanding of how frontend systems interact with backend services.

I am particularly interested in developing high-load and distributed systems, continuously improving application performance, and building reliable end-to-end solutions. I am also actively exploring modern development approaches, including automation and AI-assisted tools.

Enclosed is my CV with further details about my professional background. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my fullstack experience and technical skills could contribute to your team.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Fomichev Roman
